

Living Independently. Safely.

Gray Matters Alliance is dedicated to helping individuals live more independently and safely while improving their quality of life through enabling technology, remote support tools, and educational resources.

We Provide Resources For Independence and Safety

We work with families and organizations to help aging seniors, intellectually and developmentally disabled, and those with other neurological and cognitive conditions live more independently and safely in their own living environment.

Our Top Services To Help Live Independently

Our person-centered, customized technologies provide the opportunity for individuals to spend more time on their own, learn new skills, and allow organizations to allocate their staff more efficiently. Gray Matters Alliance's products and services provides peace of mind and a priceless level of safety and security for families.
